NEWS SUMMARY.

DU CHAILLU found the "chignon" worn universally among the Ishogo African women. A schoolmaster in Ohio advertises that he will keep a Sunday school twice a week-on Tuesday and Saturday.

At a rental of pews in the First Baptist Church at Springfield, Mass., Monday night, one gentleman bought all the gallery seats, and proposes to make them free to the public. The most wonderful echo in the world is at Austin, Nevada. The guns which were fired there on the morning of Wasmington's birthday did not cease to reverberate till eight o'clock in the even-

The Caddo Gazelle, of the 6th inst., says it is proposed to open books for subscription to build a railroad from the east bank of Red River across tne swamp to the hills-a distance of ten miles. The most remarkable case of indecision we have ever heard of, was that of a man who sat up all night because he could not decide which to take off urst, his coat or his boots. The Detroit Free Fress says of BROWNLOW'S colored competitor for the Governorship, that, unlike Brownlow, he is a negro from necessity, and not from choice." The Trustees of PHILLIPS' Academy, Andover, Mass., have added ten-pin alleys to their new gymnasium. A few years since, pupils were expelled from the institution for indulging in this game. The world moves.

A ship canal is projected from Galveston Bay to to H son, Texas. The citizens of Galveston sneer at the huge project, but the projectors of the enterprise seem in earnest. The distance between the two places is about 80 miles. Wisconsin is a reading State. It supports on hundred and thirty-three newspapers. In political eighty-five of these papers are Republican, and forty-eight Democratic. There is not a county in the State which has not at least one local paper. From the Atlanta Opinion we learn that on Fri day night last the citizens of that city gave a handsome entertainment to Gen. Pore, who made them a speech, non-committal but conciliatory, as might reasonably be expected under the circum-

The Polish language has been re-established by order of the Emperor of Austria for the study of law at Lomberg. All the examinations will be made in the same language. The telegram announcing this new Imperial concession was received with great rejoicing.

The Huntsville Independent says that at the recent election for Mayor of that city, the negroes voted against the agent of the Freedmen's Bureau who was run as a candidate for that office. Major Stoss was elected, and the negro votes were five to one for him against the Bureau agent. The iron smoke-stack attached to the east end four and a half feet in diameter, and a hundred and twelve feet high. On Saturday the huge tube was taken down without breaking. A Meadville (Pa.) paper has an account of a new steam plow which breaks up, harrows, drills and seeds, or plants a strip fifteen and a half feet wide at each passage. Its rate of progress is about four miles per hour, and it will finish off about ninety-six acres of ground, planting and all, in the space of twelve hours. A prize fight for $5000 was announced to take place at San Francisco. An ampitheatre was erected near the city, and seats were selling at fabulous prices. Excursion trains were transporting the "fancy" toward San Francisco from all parts of the State, and the affair was attracting The raid on the "chignons" still continues. The London Lancet says it is certain that many ladies carry about them in their chignons the seeds of ringworm, which it calls an "intractable malady." It also says that much of the hair used for chignons is "church-yard hair," pulled from the scalps

It has been generally supposed that the cedars of Lebanon, so famous and plentiful in Solomon's time, had mostly disappeared. But several extensive groves have been lately discovered in these mountain wilds by Rav. Mr. JESSUP, Missionary of the American Board. A single grove in Southern Lebanon contained 10,000 trees.

The Secretary of the Interior having returned with his approval a list of lands, embracing 254,860 acres, which was submitted to him as inuring to the State of Minnesota, under the act of September 4, 1841, granting 500,000 acres for purposes of internal improvements, the Commissioner of the General Land Office is having a certified copy prepared for transmission to the Governor of that There is now living in Lawrence county, Ohio, a gentleman who separated from his wife in Pennsylvania many years ago. He came to Southern Ohio and married a Miss P-, of Marietta. After the second wife's death a daughter by the first marriage brought about a reconcilliation between her father and her mother, and they were re-married more than twenty years after the date of their separation—the first wife becoming the third. A manufacturer at Ballston Sps, N. Y., has in vented an arrangement for lighting his factory by means of kerosene oil conveyed from a reservoir portions of his mill. He does away with cumbrous in the upper story, by means of gas pipes, to all nps, easily broken and liable to explosions. The burners are always ready, like gas, and do not leak. The inventor has taken means to obtain patents for his plans in this country and Europe.

The Garden of Plants in Paris now possesses beaver from Canada, to which comfortable quarters have been assigned on the banks of the rivulet which intersects a part of the menagerie. Desirous of meeting the wishes of the new comer in every possible respect, the administration had provided a but for it; but the Canadian stranger, having inspected the premises, and not found them to his taste, has pulled them down, and with the materials built up a new mansion in his own way, using his tail both as a trowel and hammer.

The Paris correspondent of the London Journal writes: "I conclude with a little story, which is as true as Warrs' hymns. Lord X. Y. Z., an English peer, was dining last night at the Cafe Pauvre. and was, having finished his dinner, ruminating over his tooth pick. Enter an American, quite stranger, who had evidently been liquoring up and using the "new bar." "You're British, I calculate, says the American gentleman. No answer. "You're British, I guess," (louder.) "Don't know you, Sir," (with dignity.) "Don't know you, neither, stranger; but I thought, perhaps, you might tell me where I live!"

The Petersburg Express of the 10th, says: The church building immediately south of Poplar Lawn, known as the Stringfellow Chapel, was destroyed by fire last night about ten o'clock. The house was altogether wooden, and while plain in appearance, was neat in style and of Gothic structure. It was erected about the year 1863, mainly by subscription, and cost about $4.500. Latterly, the building has been used both as a freedmen's school and as a colored church, and promised the most gratifying and satisfactory results in both rets. The fire was beyond all doubt, the work of a vile incendiary.

An extraordinary act of foolhardiness was perpetrated recently at Bordeaux, France. A young man, aged about twenty, dressed as a sailor, ascended to the lower gallery of the Tower of Pey-Berland, and finding that he could mount no higher, the internal communication with the upper gallery being closed, got outside and clambered by the projections and asperities up to the statue of the Virgin, on the top, finally seating himself on the head of the figure, where he remained for a considerable time, dangling his legs and smoking cigars. A crowd naturally collected below, and became denser every moment. At length the young man decended to the lower gallery by the means mentioned above, and being there informed that police officers were coming in quest of him. again got out upon the cornice, and making a sudfollowing its windings descended, till a final jump enabled him to reach terra firms without injury.

He then ran down a by-street and disappeared.

paring quietly for the arrest and bringing to jus tice of at least half a dozen of the most notorious lobby operators in behalf of New York jobs. Sufficient evidence to convict them can be easily got and thus sustain the example of New Jersey where lately one or two corruptionists have been sentenced to State prison for bribery less flagran than is every day practiced here." This is all very well. But the question naturally suggests itself: why do we not herr of the indictment, trial and conviction of the bribed as well as the bribers? The example of New Jersey does not go far enough. He who takes a bribe, being in all cases here under consideration a sworn public officer, is a worse man by far than he who offers the bribe, for the former adds the crime of perjury to that of cor-

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 15, 1867.

ORDER NO. 10-RELIEF TO DEBTORS.

We publish to-day, an order, upon the importance of which comment is unnecessary Using the authority with which the re-construction act invests him, Gen. Sickles i. 19 taken action which will meet with very general

We attach no blame to the Legislature for what was really their inability to act. They were bound by the provisions of a Constitution, the obligations of which could neither be rejected or evaded, and the Supreme Court of the State. when compelled to review their action, was bound in its decision by the same positive

Gen. Sickles occupies a very different position. He has been entrusted with a power which the Constitution of the State does not limit, and which it is his duty to use in the interests of the people over whom his authority extends, guided by the principles of justice and equity. The condition in which he finds that people, is without parallel in their history. Not only is the amount of indebtedness beyond what has ever occurred but it is utterly beyond their present power of payment. And it is being generally pressed to immediate settlement. In many districts, the number of suits is larger than the voting population, and a disproportionate share of this number consist of summary processes, indicating that the majority of the debtors are unable to pay debts under one hundred dollars, and thus compelling the sale of personal effects as well as of real property. And this question of debt is office. Chemistry, Obstetrics, and Diseases of Women and Chudren, Principles and Practice of Medicine and Pathology. As this is one of the first Medical Universities of the country, a favorable opportunity is offered those studying medicine for a scholarship. Apply at this Office. further complicated by the fluctuating and unof the Green street wing of the Linden House in | certain character of the currency existing at St. Louis remained standing after the fire. It was the date of the contracts upon which these suits are founded, thus making it almost impossible to determine their real value and their equitable obligation. Nor should it be forgotten that this inability to pay is not the result of the want of good faith or industry, nor of the financial embarrassment consequent upon injudicious trading, but is the direct consequence of a great political convulsion.

Following upon the close of the war and the re-opening of the Courts for the purposes of suit, there has been a loss of the provision crep of the State which in universality of distress has never been equalled. It is no exaggeration to say that in many sections of the State there is imminent danger of starvation. In the whole State there is nothing like an adequate supply of corn for seed and provision. and it will require all the energy and endurance of which the planting and farming community is capable to work through the difficulties of the summer to the harvest of another

We are not stating an imaginary case when ve say, that the working stock of the farmer has been seized under legal process when engaged in the very act of preparing the soil to yield food for another year. Nor is it much to be wondered at. Universal suing has confused the value of liens. A creditor inclined to be generous does not know what advantage a hardescreditor may take of his generosity. Everything is uncertain. Nobody knows what the coming Convention will be or what it will do. Worse even than this, the debtor who resents the harshness of the first suing creditor, strives in a spirit that is certainly unjust, but not unnatural, to defeat his claim by a prior confession, or to protect his property by a dubious conveyance. Men are learning in that spirit of false and sophistical subterfuge which misery always teaches to attempt to discriminate between the legal and the moral obligation of a debt. As an eminent member of the Bar said not very long ago in open court, "May it please your Honor, if it be fraudulent in A. to settle this property on his wife as against his creditors, then I, and my brethren of the Bar, have been very badly employed, for during the last months much of our practice has consisted in making just such settlements."

And in the midst of such distress, the State s called to go through the most critical of trials—a complete and radical political revolution. Is a population distempered and irritated by such suffering in that frame of mind which is fit to legislate? It may, in the opinion of some be decorous and dignified not to recognise disagreeable truths, but no one who knows the condition of this State will deny that in many sections, the distress consequent upon the collection of debts is working most dangerously. When a respectable paper can deliberately declare that if property is to be sacrificed, it would prefer confiscation by the government to execution in behalf of the creditors, good men nay condemn, but wise men will reflect.

Under these circumstances, the military commander says, what we consider eminently wise -while you are in this transition state, while your laws are uncertain, because they are subect to modification or abrogation; while your civil authorities are temporary, because they are subject to removal, while political questions of vital interest to your existence and which require all your wisdom and temper and concert for their solution, are pressing for decision; while you are harrassed and distressed by your struggle for the necessities of daily life, it is best that all other subjects of disturbance should be avoided. When your Convention meets, as it will do in a few months, and you enter upon the work of re-organization, then you can settle these questions calmly and carefully. In the mean time, I regard it my duty in the interests of order and society to suppress, as far as possible, these causes which make your work more difficult and more dangerous. We do not deem it necessary to make any comment upon the details of this order. Its provisions are so clear and precise that they will be readily understood, and commending them to the attention of all classes of the comnunity, we will only express our participation in "the earnest desire and the confident belief of the Commanding General," "that the observance of the regulations and the co-operation of the people in employing fairly and justly the advantages afforded, will develope den spring, caught the lightning conductor, and the agencies by which the great misery now experienced may be mitigated, and that meanwhile such avenues of industry, enterprise and organization may be opened as will contribute says: "It is reported here that measures are pre. to the permanent welfare of the people"

RODRIGUE'S PULMONIC BLIXIR SPECIFIC.

FOR THE CURE OF CONSUMPTION, PAINS IN THE CHEST AND SIDES, DIFFICULTY IN BREATHING, BRONCHITIS, CATARRH, ASTHMA, COUGHS, HEMORRHAGE, and all affections of the Lungs. This great revivityer is offered to the public, that all who will avail themselves of its remedial power may be benefitted. who will avail them elves of its remedial power may be benefited.

It only requires a fair trial to confirm its invaluable agency in diffusing through each channel of the human organization a restored vitality. It invigorates and embues the Lungs with healthful elasticity; restores warmth, which is their essential element; rouses the sluggish vessels into activity; heals the affected lobes; purifies and enriches the blood; regulates the circulation; induces free and easy respiration, and expels, through its administration, each and every concomitant disorder present in the malady recognized as Consumption, and hitherto deemed hopeless and incurable.

This compound is perfectly safe, possessing neither narcotic nor emetic properties, which unfortunately are always employed as essentials in every preparation for Cough or Lung affection—a mistake which too often in its irritating and debilitating consequences, only conduces to much general derangement of the system, deduces to much general derangement of the system, de-stroying appetite and creating an injurious nervous excitement, augmenting suffering with frequent fatal re-

Suits.
Under the influence of this approved and invaluable Specific the most distressing Cough yields, difficulty in breathing and pains and soreness subside, hemorrhage is arrested, and health and strength re-established.
